REFLECTION ON BEING AT A CROSSROAD

Most of us would have experienced being at a crossroad at some time, making a decision on which road to take to get to our destination. It could be when travelling, making a decision about a new job, moving house, choosing a life-time partner, even leaving the Church.

In Sunday's Gospel we find the disciples at a crossroad – whether to believe and follow Jesus or to walk away. Was what he was saying too hard to accept? Could they believe this carpenter from Nazareth, this wandering preacher?

Jesus knew their hesitancy and was not surprised when they walked away, having made the decision this was too difficult. Jesus asked the Twelve "Do you want to go away too?" Peter answered for all: Lord to whom shall we go? You have the message of eternal life."

Peter knew their destination – eternal life! He knew Jesus was the Way.

What about me? Am I sure of my destination, the route I must take to get there?

Am I faithfully following the way Jesus has shown us? Can I also say: Lord to whom shall I go? You are the Way!

RESOURCE TO HELP CHILDREN PRAY AT MASS

Children's Mass books are now available in the back of the church for use during Mass. "When I Go to Mass" is a book that reads like a Children's Missal written by Melbourne mother Sarah Hlavcek. Borrow these books during Mass to help your little one engage and keep focused on the Mass and place them back after Mass so they will be where you found them next time. These books are designed to explain the Mass in a simple yet meaningful way. Helping your children follow along with the book in Mass is one great way to help children learn and engage with the Mass. If you would like a copy of this great resource for your home, "When I Go to Mass" is also available to purchase on Amazon and Book Depository in both paperback and hardcover.

Last week a report by the UN Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change called for urgent action to address the global climate crisis. While it is important that we, personally and as a community, take action, let us not forget our spiritual life. Source: editor@australiancatholics.com.au

The following is a prayer from Pope Francis for the earth.

All-powerful God, you are present in the whole universe and in the smallest of your creatures.

You embrace with your tenderness all that exists.

Pour out upon us the power of your love, that we may protect life and beauty. Fill us with peace, that we may live as brothers and sisters, harming no one.

O God of the poor, help us to rescue the abandoned and forgotten of this earth, so precious in your eyes.

Bring healing to our lives, that we may protect the world and not prey on it, that we may sow beauty, not pollution and destruction. Touch the hearts of those who look only for gain
at the expense of the poor and the earth.
Teach us to discover the worth of each thing,
to be filled with awe and contemplation,
to recognise that we are profoundly united
with every creature
as we journey towards your infinite light.

We thank you for being with us each day. Encourage us, we pray, in our struggle for justice, love and peace.

Pope Francis, Laudato Si'

DIVINE MERCY NOVENA

1st Sunday of the Month-3.00pm

PRAYER TO ST MICHAEL

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle, be our protection against the wickedness

and snares of the Devil; may God rebuke him,

we humbly pray, and do thou,

O Prince of the heavenly host,

by the power of God, cast into hell Satan,

and all the evil spirits, who prowl

through the world seeking the ruin of souls.

Amen.

NEO-CONSTANTINOPOLITAN CREED

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.

God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;

through him all things were made.

For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven.

[bow during the next line]

and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.

He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.

I confess one baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen

LITURGY OF THE WORD

ENTRANCE PROCESSION

Turn your ear, O Lord, and answer me; save the servant who trusts in you, my God. Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I cry to you all the day long.

FIRST READING Joshua 24:1-2,15-18

Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel together at Shechem; then he called the elders, leaders, judges and scribes of Israel, and they presented themselves before God. Then Joshua said to all the people: 'If you will not serve the Lord, choose today whom you wish to serve, whether the gods that your ancestors served beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites in whose land you are now living. As for me and my House, we will serve the Lord.' The people answered, 'We have no intention of deserting the Lord our God who brought us and our ancestors out of the land of Egypt, the house of slavery, who worked those great wonders before our eyes and preserved us all along the way we travelled and among all the peoples through whom we journeyed. We too will serve the Lord, for he is our God.'

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: 33

Commentator: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

I will bless the Lord at all times, his praise always on my lips; in the Lord my soul shall make its boast. The humble shall hear and be glad.

The Lord turns his face against the wicked to destroy their remembrance from the earth. The Lord turns his eyes to the just and his ears to their appeal.

They call and the Lord hears and rescues them in all their distress. The Lord is close to the broken-hearted; those whose spirit is crushed he will save.

Many are the trials of the just man but from them all the Lord will rescue him. He will keep guard over all his bones, not one of his bones shall be broken.

Evil brings death to the wicked; those who hate the good are doomed. The Lord ransoms the souls of his servants. Those who hide in him shall not be condemned.

All: Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

NEXT WEEK'S READING

22nd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME—YEAR B

First Reading: Deut 4:1 –2, 6-8;
Second Reading: James 1:17-18,21-22,27;
Gospel: Mk 7:1-8, 14-15,21-23

SECOND READING Ephesians 5:21-32

Give way to one another in obedience to Christ. Wives should regard their husbands as they regard the Lord, since as Christ is head of the Church and saves the whole body, so is a husband the head of his wife; and as the Church submits to Christ, so should wives submit to their husbands, in everything, Husbands should love their wives just as Christ loved the Church and sacrificed himself for her to make her holy. He made her clean by washing her in water with a form of words, so that when he took her to himself she would be glorious, with no speck or wrinkle or anything like that, but holy and faultless. In the same way, husbands must love their wives as they love their own bodies: for a man to love his wife is for him to love himself. A man never hates his own body, but he feeds it and looks after it; and that is the way Christ treats the Church, because it is his body - and we are its living parts. For this reason, a man must leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two will become one body. This mystery has many implications; but I am saying it applies to Christ and the Church.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!

Your words, Lord, are spirit and life: you have the words of everlasting life. Alleluia!

GOSPEL John 6:60-69

After hearing his doctrine many of the followers of Jesus said, 'This is intolerable language. How could anyone accept it?' Jesus was aware that his followers were complaining about it and said, 'Does this upset you? What if you should see the Son of Man ascend to where he was before?

'It is the spirit that gives life,

the flesh has nothing to offer.

The words I have spoken to you are spirit and they are life.

'But there are some of you who do not believe.' For Jesus knew from the outset those who did not believe, and who it was that would betray him. He went on, 'This is why I told you that no one could come to me unless the Father allows him.' After this, many of his disciples left him and stopped going with him. Then Jesus said to the Twelve, 'What about you, do you want to go away too?' Simon Peter answered, 'Lord, who shall we go to? You have the message of eternal life, and we believe; we know that you are the Holy One of God.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

The earth is replete with the fruits of your work, O Lord; you bring forth bread from the earth and wine to cheer the heart.

Year of Saint Joseph XXIV

Reginald

The Virtues and Gifts of St Joseph

St Joseph's humility must have been increased by the thought of the gratuity of his exceptional vocation. He must have said to himself: why has the Most High given me, rather than any other man, His Son to watch over?

Only because that was His good pleasure. Joseph was freely preferred from all eternity to all other men to whom the Lord could have given the same gifts and the same fidelity to prepare them for so exceptional a vocation. The knowledge of the value of the grace he received and of its absolute gratuitousness, far from injuring his humility, would strengthen it. He would think in his heart: "What have you that you have not received?"

Joseph appears the most humble of the saints after Mary — more humble than any of the angels. If he is the most humble, he is by that fact the greatest, for the virtues are all connected and a person's charity is as elevated as his humility is profound. "He that is lesser among you all, he is the greater" (Luke 9: 48).

His faith cannot be shaken in spite of the darkness of the unexpected mystery. The word of God communicated to him by the angel throws light on the virginal conception of the Saviour: Joseph might have hesitated to believe a thing so wonderful, but he believes it firmly in the simplicity of his heart. By his simplicity and his humility, he reaches up to divine heights.

Obscurity follows once more. Joseph was poor before receiving the secret of the Most High. He becomes still poorer when Jesus is born, for Jesus comes to separate men from everything so as to unite them to God. There is no room for the Saviour in the inns of Bethlehem. Joseph must have suffered from having nothing to offer to Mary and her Son.

His love of God and of souls did not cease to increase during the hidden life of Nazareth; the Incarnate Word is an unfailing source of graces, ever newer and more choice, for docile souls who oppose no obstacle to His action. The progress of such docile souls as Mary and Joseph is one of uniform acceleration: that is to say, they are carried all the more powerfully to God the nearer they approach Him.

This law of spiritual gravitation was realised in Joseph; his charity grew up to the time of his death, and the progress of his latter years was more rapid than that of his earlier years, for finding himself nearer to God he was more powerfully drawn by Him.

St Joseph's death was a privileged one; St Francis de Sales writes that it was a death of love. He teaches that St Joseph was one of the saints who rose after the Lord's Resurrection (Matthew 17: 52ff) and appeared in Jerusalem; he holds also that these resurrections were definitive and that Joseph entered heaven then, body and soul.

St Joseph's Role in the Sanctification of Souls

The humble carpenter is glorified in heaven to the extent to which he was hidden on earth. He to whom the Incarnate Word was subject has now an incomparable power of intercession. Leo XIII, in his encyclical, Quamquam Pluries, finds in St Joseph's mission in regard to the Holy Family "the reasons why he is Patron and Protector of the universal Church. Just as Mary, Mother of the Saviour, is spiritual mother of all Christians ... Joseph looks on all Christians as having been confided to himself ... He is the defender of the Holy Church which is truly the house of God and the kingdom of God on earth"

What strikes us most in St Joseph's role till the end of time is that there are united in it in an admirable way apparently opposed prerogatives. His influence is universal over the whole Church, and yet, like Divine Providence, it descends to the least details; model of workmen, he takes an interest in everyone who turns to him. He is the most universal of the saints, yet he helps a poor man in his ordinary daily needs.

His action is primarily of the spiritual order, yet it extends to temporal affairs; he is the support of families and of communities, the hope of the sick. He watches over Christians of all conditions, of all countries, over fathers of families, husbands and wives, consecrated virgins; over the rich to inspire them to distribute their possessions charitably, and over the poor so as to help them. He is attentive to the needs of great sinners and of souls advanced in virtue. He is the patron of a happy death, of lost causes; he is terrible to the demon, and St Teresa tells us that he is a guide in the ways of prayer.

He has been clothed and will remain clothed in Divine splendour. Grace has become fruitful in him and he will share its fruit with all who strive to attain to the life which is "hid with Christ in God" (Colossians 3: 3).

Garrigou-Lagrange, The Predestination of St Joseph and His Eminent Sanctity
